Market Closes Steady.

By The Associated Press. NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Increasing nervousness over the British labor situation seemed the dominating influence in the cotton market here today. Reports that British railway men had been ordered to go on a strike at midnight, Sunday, should the government fail to settle the coal dispute meanwhile, caused a very sharp break during the early afternoon, but later advices were considered reassuring and the general list closed steady at net losses of 35 to 53 points.

The market opened steady at a decline owing to weak Liverpool cables, selling by houses with Liverpool connections and renewed hedge selling by the south. Trade interests were buoyant on the early decline, however, while there was considerable buying in the middle of the day on reports of a firmer spot basis in the southwest and talk of a better demand during the early afternoon. The unsettled British labor reports. Later reports that there were to be conferences between the British government, and the coal miners before the end of the week, prompted rallies which were encouraged by the smaller volume of hedge selling and reports that trade interests were buying on scale down.

SCHOOLSTERS OF PARIS RECORD IN DEPARTMENT

Prof. Wooten had a shock Thursday morning. The weekly sing song had put him in good humor and Prof. Shaw rewarded the efforts of the singers with words of praise while Prof. Wooten smiled.

But when he got back to the office he took up the report cards and there is where the shock came in. There was such universal report of good behavior on the part of the children; so many who had 100 in deportment that the head of the schools couldn't understand it.

He summoned the teachers of the high school to make explanation. He has had long experience and those years in the schools had led him to believe that perfection hasn't been attained by the average Paris schoolster.

But the teachers stuck to it—the children are studying, they are behaving and they are making good marks; and no matter what they may do later they are deserving of the best marks for deportment. So Prof. Wooten shook his head but let it go at that; for he can be convinced.

TEACHERS REGALED WITH TEA BY D. S. CLASS

The young ladies of the domestic science class entertained the teachers of the high school and a number of invited guests at an informal tea Thursday afternoon; and it was most highly appreciated.

Tea with sandwiches and a salad and maxamales were served with the usual close attention to details of the class which has been organized less than a month.

Mrs. Austin is in charge of the class this year and has them well started along the line of education which will make for happier homes in Paris and Texas.

The young ladies who are members of the class for this term are: Pauline Anderson, Mattie Lou Moore, Vera Carroll, Amelia Miller, Gwendoline Denton, Lucille Finley, Ethel Skidmore, Gladys Guthrie, Levis Galtner, Ruth Bassano, Genevieve Chartier, and Margaret Nix.

OFFICERS INVESTIGATE BURGLARIES AT PETTY

Deputy Sheriff O. V. McDonald was called to Petty yesterday to investigate a series of burglaries, and Geo. P. Blackburn and Benton Fisher, the assistants in the county attorney's office, accompanied him.

A few nights ago Gunter's store was burglarized and a lot of tobacco, cigars, chewing gum and other things were taken. At the same time the grist mill of A. L. Jett and the residence of J. E. Connor was entered. A pistol was taken from the residence.

It was claimed that the burglars secreted the missing goods in the loft of an old church building, and that the officers obtained a key by seeing them make trips to the place whenever they wanted to get any cigars or cigarettes to smoke, or something else.

It was claimed that the alleged burglars sold some of the things that were carried away from the store.

Married Last Night

Elbert H. Davis and Miss Lois Oldham, both of Paris, were married at 6:30 o'clock yesterday evening by Rev. W. B. Kendall at the parsonage of the First Baptist church. They were accompanied by friends.

STATE PRESIDENT KING'S DAUGHTERS IS PARIS WOMAN

Miss Mary Daniel Chosen As Head Of Great Charitable Organization.

REPORTS SHOW MUCH GOOD WORK WAS DONE

Musical Program And Talk By Guest Of Honor Concluded The Fiscal Year Of State Body.

The Paris circle of King's Daughters has a double honor this year—that of entertaining the State convention, and that of having chosen from its ranks, the State president, Miss Mary Daniel.

Cleburne was chosen by the State convention as the State president, Miss Mary Daniel.

Vice-president—Mrs. Fine of Cleburne.

Corresponding Sec'y.—Mrs. B. F. Thielen of Paris.

Recording Sec'y.—Mrs. Coleman of Georgetown.

Treasurer—Mrs. C. M. Miller of Austin (past president).

Cleburne was chosen by ballot as the next convention place, though Austin also extended a cordial invitation.

The morning session opened at 9:30 with an organ prelude by Miss Gilbert and a solo by Mrs. Braselton.

Rev. Mr. Garman gave a most inspirational talk, especially adapted to the needs of the King's Daughters, and, at the close of his address, a hymn was sung, and the business taken up with the minutes of previous meetings and roll call.

Informal Ballot

The report from the Cleburne chapter was read by Mrs. Fine, that from Georgetown by Mrs. Goodlett, and that of the Paris circle, by Miss Daniel. These were all most encouraging, and showed that in spite of other pressing activities and demands the members have remained true to their order, and carried out their work most faithfully, with no small degree of success.

An informal ballot was then taken for the nomination of State officers, preparatory to the final election in the afternoon.

Mrs. McLaurin of Vicksburg, Miss., gave a very instructive and entertaining talk in regard to the Central Council of which she is a member. Following this, announcement of the nominations was made.

Devotional by Mrs. C. M. Miller of Austin, prayer and a hymn finished the morning meeting.

Luncheon At Gibraltar

At 12:30, the delegates were honored by the Paris circle with a luncheon at the Hotel Gibraltar, the decorations being in white, purple and silver, the chosen colors of the society.

In the afternoon, the meeting was preceded by an organ prelude by Miss Gilbert. Dr. B. E. Wallace of the First Presbyterian church gave an appropriate and well-wounded devotional talk, chosen with regard to its application to the King's Daughters. The assembly then joined in singing "I Love to Tell the Story."

After the minutes of the morning meeting, Mrs. Harvey read the report from the Austin chapter, and the secretary, Mrs. Thielen, that sent from Rockport, both of them as encouraging as the statistics given from other circles.

Mrs. Beckham of Austin gave a paper from the "Watch and Work Circle" of that city. This was an exposition of the spirit in which the King's Daughters enter upon and carry out their work.

Election Of Officers

The ballot was next taken on the nominees for office, these being for president, Mrs. Robinson and Miss Daniel of Paris; for vice-president, Mrs. Beckman of Austin and Mrs. Fine of Cleburne; for corresponding secretary, Mrs. Thielen of Paris; for recording secretary, Mrs. Coleman of Georgetown and Mrs. Harvey of Austin, and for treasurer, Mrs. Miller of Austin and Mrs. Featherstone of Cleburne. The vote resulted as given above.

In the discussion of convention expenses, there was some division of opinion, but the motion was passed unanimously that the entertaining circle should provide the convention delegates with rooms and breakfast, the other meals, entertainment and expenses to be provided for as shall be found most expedient. It was especially urged that the convention send a representative to the Central Council meeting to be held next May in Louisville, Ky.

Mrs. McLaurin also made an appeal for support and donations for the "Silver Cross," the national publication of the King's Daughters. The decision as to the next meeting place for the convention closed the business items, and, after prayer and adjournment, the visitors were taken for a drive about the city by the Paris members.

Evening Session

The evening session convened at 7:30, with a large number of Paris people present beside the convention delegates.

Rev. W. B. Kendall of the First Baptist church gave the invocation, and conducted the devotion on "Loyalty-Consecration" from the 12th chapter of Romans.

A varied and well-selected musical program, under the direction and arrangement of Mrs. Clara Rice Thompson, was rendered, much to the enjoyment and appreciation of the audience.

Minutes of the previous meeting were heard, and reports from the credentials, auditing and resolutions committees. The installation of officers was next in order, and they were introduced by Mrs. McLaurin, who then led the consecration service.

HEALTH PROGRAM IN LAMAR COUNTY

Crusade To Be Undertaken By The Tuberculosis Association.

The Lamar County Tuberculosis Association, which has recently been organized, has announced as its first constructive health program the organization of the Modern Health Crusade in the Schools of the county. The Texas Public Health Association, which directs the Modern Health Crusade movement among the school children of Texas, has assigned the Lamar County Association in this work, and has already sent supplies to Paris. It is expected that 9000 children of the county will learn the principles of good health through the efforts of the recently organized Association.

Last year over 420,000 school children of Texas were enrolled in the Modern Health Crusade, and became quakers, squires, knights, and knights banner in "Health Chivalry." These Crusades develop a sense of community responsibility for sanitary conditions, and an individual care for personal cleanliness, among the children.

Miss Mary Kennedy, Red Cross Health Nurse, has been appointed director of the Modern Health Crusade work in Lamar County, with Miss Jackie Robinson, Prof. Wooten, Mr. A. G. Marple, and Mrs. Owen O'Neil as assistants.

Prof. Paul Martin, Sup't. of Blossom schools, sent in the first order for supplies for carrying on the work of the Modern Health Crusade.

CLOSING DAY FOR ISSUING POLL TAX RECEIPTS

County Collector Bruce Brashears was kept busy all day yesterday issuing poll tax receipts under the law enacted by the recent legislature extending the time for payment.

The reason that the time was extended was because the law entitling women to vote did not become operative until the time for payment of the polltax expired and they would have been deprived of voting this year.

The extension had to be made applicable to men subject to the polltax and to the issuance of exemption certificates in order to be uniform and consistent.

The extension of time expired last night, the law having stated that it should extend to Oct. 22. It did not provide that it should include the 22nd instant.

Collector Brashears stated that he issued sixty-five polltax receipts during the day to women, a large majority of whom were negroes, and that he issued twelve receipts to men and twelve exemption certificates.

Died Of Swamp Fever
Luther Rayburn, a farmer about forty-five years old, who had lived near Woodland all of his life, died last Sunday evening of swamp fever. There are said to be a good many cases of malarial sickness around Woodland and State Shoals.

A Motorcycle Officer
Walter Perkins, a young man who was formerly employed as a clerk in Paris, is now serving on the Dallas police force as a motorcycle officer.

Disabilities Removed
The minority disabilities of M. K. Billings were removed in the district court yesterday.

She told of the consecration of the Biblical days, and how christian lives were dedicated, without reserve, to the Master's work.

There can be no halfway measures; the step must be wholehearted and sincere, and it must be the same with the prayers for guidance. It is often, she said, the problem of christian men and women desirous of doing right, to find themselves torn between two calls to duty, and the difficulty then is in choosing, not the good thing, but the better thing.

In consecration, she continued, envy, malice, jealousy, covetousness and false judgment must be watched for and avoided, for no soul can be wholly Christ's when it allows these sins to come between it and the fulfillment of duty.

As a closing hymn, "Just As I Am" was sung, and the closing prayer was themed upon this.

Close Of Year

This service closed the year's convention—one which has, in every way been an inspiration and in many ways, a revelation. It was small, so far as numbers go, but so far as work is concerned, it was all that might be asked of a convention. Already, the delegates are looking forward to the extension of work, and the bigger accomplishments destined for next year's meeting, which it is hoped, will be a more representative body—representative of the size and possibilities of the King's Daughters of Texas.

Enough cannot be said in appreciation of Mrs. McLaurin and her invaluable aid to the convention. Her talks were most timely, well-directed helps, and her personality alone is an inspiration to those who took advantage of the opportunity of hearing her. She has been a source of encouragement and a spirit of inspiration throughout the session.

Centralized Organization

To those who arranged and assisted in the musical programs, and to the pastors of the city who so willingly gave of their time to help in the programs, the convention is most grateful. It has been an honor and a pleasure to have Paris chosen as the convention place, and a tribute to her well-established chapter of King's Daughters.

The State organization is now centralized and ready for the extension campaign. The possibilities for enlargement and the field for work unlimited, and the Daughters plan to make the most of their opportunities, and enter upon a campaign with new vigor and enthusiasm.

ONLY HOPE IS IN CUTTING ACREAGE

The Cotton Grower Must Consider The Facts As They Are Now.

C. R. Caldwell of Roston, a prominent land owner, in speaking of cotton acreage reduction yesterday, stated that he left it to his renters to plant what they wanted to. It was too far ahead to say what they would do.

While cotton acreage reduction would be a good thing, corn and cotton were the only crop the land around Roston was adapted to, and they could not engage in diversified farming.

Wiley Smith, who lives four miles north of town, said that he hadn't given the matter any thought, but that he generally tried to make enough corn to do him regardless of what other people did. If they didn't plant any more cotton than he did it would be a scarce commodity. He said he generally planted about half of his land in cotton and was able to raise enough feed stuff on the rest of it to do him.

Below Cost Of Production

S. H. Hancock, who has a large farm northeast of town in the Amherst community, said he believed the greatest, if not the only salvation for the man who produced cotton was to reduce the acreage next year from a third to a half and hold the best cotton off the market until he can get at least the cost of production out of it. He doubted whether there was a man in the county who could get as much for his cotton at prevailing prices as he spent in making it, to say nothing of the other expenses incurred.

He said he couldn't help from believing the farmer would reduce very materially because they can't support their families raising cotton and selling below the cost of production. For the last eight or ten years he had not planted more than half of his farm in cotton, and next year he expected to reduce still farther. His tenants have a plenty of corn and hogs to run them and are prepared to stay out of debt until they can catch up on the slack.

J. D. Kennedy, northeast of Roston, said he thought something would have to be done, but he didn't know what would be best. It had got down to where a farmer couldn't make anything raising it. He had over 200 acres of cotton this year and about sixty acres of corn and oats. He said he was a tenant and didn't have much to say about it, but if he had his say he would raise more to eat at home and plant the surplus in cotton.

Money In Other Crops

B. F. Hart, living near Blossom, said the sentiment of his community was favorable to reduction of acreage. He always raised hogs and was going to raise peanuts and sweet potatoes. He sold between 400 and 500 bushels of potatoes this year that were raised on five acres for all the way from $2.25 down to 75 cents a bushel. There was more money in one acre of potatoes than in three acres of cotton.

J. G. Sansberry of Faught said he thought all the time the acreage ought to be reduced, and that he has always told his tenants he wanted them to plant plenty of corn, but they believed that reduction was the salvation of the county.

Always Favored Reduction

J. M. Lattimore, a well known land owner near Roston, said he always considered that too much cotton was being raised. It ought to be planted as a surplus crop after the farmer has planted all of the feedstuff he needed. He tried twenty years ago to get the acreage reduced. If an organized plan for reduction should be adopted any farmer who violated an agreement to reduce ought to be fined.

He said he had never objected to his tenants raising anything they wanted to raise. The only salvation of the South was to cut down the cotton. He made more money out of wheat around Roston than he made out of cotton.

J. W. Williams, who has a farm south of town, said the acreage ought to be reduced, but he didn't know how to go about it. Corn and cotton were the only safe crops that could be grown on black land. At least a third of it ought to be in corn. A farmer ought never have to buy corn or meat. No doubt the acreage would be reduced, and everybody ought to plant what his land is best adapted to.

Living At Home Main Thing

H. A. Rogers of Reno, said he didn't think there would be as much cotton planted next year as there was this year. A great many farmers were beginning to realize that it was not advisable.

In place of so much cotton they could plant sorghum, corn, oats, potatoes, peas, peanuts, wheat and rye. They could live at home and sell the surplus. If there should be no market for the surplus products after getting a living on the surplus as on cotton. All of the other things they can utilize, but they will have to sell the cotton for whatever they can get.

DECEASED FATHER LEAVES ESTATE TO BLIND SON

An application was filed in the county clerk's office yesterday for the probate of the will of J. H. Doster, a former resident of Lamar county, who died in January, 1919, at Hollis, Ok., leaving property of the estimated value of $1,500. By the terms of the will the property is all left to W. M. Doster, a blind son, who is named as executor without bond. The deceased bequeathed to four other sons and to his wife $5 each as their share in the estate.

DR. CLAXTON TELLS HOW TO SECURE BETTER SCHOOLS

It Is A Question Of Providing The Trustees With Ample Funds.

PLEA FOR ADOPTION OF EDUCATIONAL AMENDMENT

It Is In The Interest Of The Rural Districts Rather Than Of The Cities And Is Greatly Needed.

Dr. P. P. Claxton, commissioner of education of the United States, addressed a fairly good audience last evening in the auditorium of the High School in the interest of the amendment to the constitution of Texas which provides for enlarging the taxing power for school purposes.

Dr. Claxton's subject was "Better Schools," and he frankly admitted that better schools may be provided only with more money.

He has come to Texas, he stated, because of his general interest in education and in the fact that the action of Texans upon this amendment will have its effect in other States where similar conditions prevail.

Opened With Song

The evening was opened with songs by a chorus of the school children, most of whom remained to hear the distinguished speaker.

The weather was hot and there were present only a few of the trustees from the rural districts, to whom the plea for adoption of the amendment should more particularly appeal.

This point was made clear at the beginning by Dr. Claxton, who pointed out that a majority of the cities of the State have already provided for taxing themselves to any amount they wish for school purposes; and they have adequate facilities; but in the rural districts the constitutional limitation is so low that adequate facilities may not be provided from the funds so raised.

Term Of School

The cities have provided that there shall be nine months of schooling for the children; but in the rural districts there is only six; and the State funds are not sufficient to increase this. The local funds are not sufficient to supplement the State funds; and the rural schools are the ones which suffer.

He pointed out that it isn't fair to say to the people who live in the rural districts that they may not take their own money for the education of their children, the amendment providing that the tax shall be a matter of local option and that it provides that the people of a district "may" and not that they "shall."

Can Be Trusted

His own experience had been that the people of the rural districts could be trusted to do what was right. It was in no probability that because of this increase in the taxing authority they would go wild and become extravagant. At least they will not do so to any greater degree than have the people of the cities.

For himself, he doesn't believe in the waste of money. Money is the term for labor; every dollar wasted means that one of two or three hours of the life of some man or woman has been wasted for it has taken that length of time to earn that dollar.

Importance Of Education

In a democracy everything awaits on education. There is at present a crisis in the affairs of the world. In such times there is the greater need for education. It is essential that there be knowledge; and the sums which are being expended upon the education of the people are pitiful as compared with the enormous sums spent upon war.

It has been said that the recent war was fought to make the world safe for democracy; but the world isn't safe for democracy and democracy is unsafe for the world unless there be educational enlightenment to let the people of the world know what is the right.

Patriotism

In a time of war, with banners flying and martial music sounding and the hearts of men stirred by the fiery zeal of enthusiasm patriotism is easily aroused and men give their very lives in the time of slow rebuilding after the war there is as great need for patriotism and it is much harder to arouse; hence there should be greater effort to accomplish it.

If it be patriotic to fight for freedom, then it is just as patriotic to freedom for the maintenance of that freedom; and freedom without education is not possible.

The Farmer

Referring again to the fact that in the cotton year there is an average of 130 days each year devoted to school and in the country only 120 days, he painted a picture of what the farmer must know if he be successful and contrasted this with the information and knowledge required of the average worker in the cities.

The farmer's wife must be the sole guardian of her children and she has not at her elbow the physician, the skilled teacher, the many assistants, who are at the call of the dweller in the cities.

There is, therefore, the greater need for education in the rural schools that the boys and the girls may be able to meet the responsibilities which are theirs.

He summed the matter up in this wise: The three fundamentals are natural resources, native ability and education. The natural resources of a State may not be in any wise increased by anything which may be done by man. Not an added drop of oil may be put in the ground; not a single ounce of iron ore may be put

COTTON EXPORT CORPORATION TO RAISE TWELVE MILLION

Not Intended For Purpose of Holding Cotton But to Insure Movement of Crop While Market is Stagnant.

By The Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Plans for the organization of a $12,000,000 cotton export and crop financing corporation were adopted at a meeting here late today of bankers and representatives of the cotton interests attending the convention of the American Bankers' Association. The meeting approved suggestions contained in a report of a committee headed by Robert F. Maddox, Atlanta banker, to move at once in the direction of preliminary steps towards organizing the corporation. Tentative agreements provide for the payment of half the capital stock, or an initial working fund of $5,000,000 capital and $1,000,000 surplus.

Capital subscriptions, the plan suggests, will be based on an assessment of one dollar a bale on cotton raised in the respective states, thereby making the organization one of influence throughout all territory which has had difficulty in financing the movement of the cotton crops. The decision to call for the initial payment of only half of the total capital means therefore that the subscriptions will be pro-rated among the purchasers of stock on the basis of 50 cents per bale.

To Insure Movement.
It was made clear by speakers at the meeting that the purpose of the corporation, which will be organized under the Edge Act amending the federal reserve act, is not to hold the cotton crop, but to insure that the commodity be moved "at a time when the market is stagnant."

Under provisions of the Edge Act the corporation is enabled to handle trade acceptances—agreement of the purchasers—to the amount of ten times its capital and surplus, or in the case of the proposed corporation, the ability to handle acceptances of cotton purchasers to the amount of $60,000,000. Although there was no specific mention made, there were indications that reorganization of the corporation would immediately open the way for the sale of cotton in Europe, where the demand is estimated at three to four million bales.

No Extravagant Promises

The committee informed those in attendance at the meeting that it would make "no extravagant promises" but that it hoped that the establishment of such a corporation would be "of tremendous benefit" to the South. The meeting was told also

"Your committee does not believe that we should attempt anything on too large a scale, but recommends that we start an export financing corporation under the Edge Act with a capital and surplus of, say, twelve million dollars. Fifty per cent of the subscribed capital would provide an immediate fund of six million dollars which would be represented by five million dollars of capital and one million dollars of surplus and that would be enough to handle a considerable volume of business."

"If this meeting approves the above suggestions, the undersigned committee is authorized to add or delete representatives from each one of the other southern states."

Time For Action

"Your committee feels that the time is past for oratory, special appeals to governmental or other authorities and that it is time that we of the south take hold of this situation and help ourselves as we undoubtedly can if we will cooperate in the manner hereafter suggested."

MEETING OF THE COTTON GROWERS

TWO DEMOCRATS ADDED TO LIST

Donators Were Not Numerous Following The Big Rush Of Contributions.

Just as The Morning News feared, the bulge in receipts for the Cox campaign fund proved a brake upon the donating democrats though the detouring democrats continue to vociferate at various points.

Of course, it may be thought that a lot of the detourers who were making loud noises during the primary campaign have sent their money directly to Dallas, but it is hardly probable as all the money credited to Lamar county at headquarters has been accounted for with the exception of a few dollars.

It will be observed that the republican crowd are busting into song in the advertising columns of the Morning News today; and they are going to have some more ads soon.

Of course, we are supposed to stand by the advertisers and not permit them to use the columns for anything that isn't exactly all right; but these republican ads should start a sort of silence campaign for the election of Cox.

There were two contributors Thursday and one of them didn't care to be known under his correct moniker; so he may identify it by saying that Harry Cox turned in the dollar.

THE GOVERNMENT is an intangible sort of thing which is entirely separate and apart from the administration of the moment in the minds of the people. The government goes on forever, no matter whether it be Cox or Harding who is the president. The sins of one administration are carried into the next and we regard them as the sins of "the government" rather than of any particular administration.

THE GOVERNMENT has become a more or less organized group of bureaus, divisions and commissions. It may not be called a system because it is not. It has no system—at least, there is very little co-ordinated effort among these groups of bureaus and divisions. We are, in essence, no longer a representative democracy but a bureaucracy.

FOR INSTANCE, the treasury department is making every effort to teach thrift to the general public—so it says. There is a large group of young ladies and gentlemen drawing very good salaries asking the public to please buy thrift stamps and requesting the newspapers to use their space in pursuance of such campaign because it is for the benefit of the public.

A MOST EXCELLENT THING, the thrift campaign, and to be commended—if it were sincere and if the treasury department's several bureaus and divisions were co-ordinated and working together to the end that there really be encouragement for thrift.

BUT IT IS NOT TRUE. One division—the head—of the treasury department is using his authority as the true head of the Federal reserve bank to beat down the price of farm products, to restrict credits of certain industries and to pile up enormous profits for the Federal bank, a thing which was never intended and which is not right.

THE TREASURY has also bought liberty bonds at depreciated prices and then boasted of the "great saving" effected in retiring that amount of the public debt. That is essentially wrong in itself. The treasury department:

forced the bankers of the country to violate their pledges and to throw over many of the loans on liberty bonds, a thing which was primarily responsible for the drop in those securities and apparently premeditated to effect that very thing—and that was an outrage. That was a body blow to thrift.

THE GOVERNMENT makes mistakes, being conducted by humans. It is a good system of government if we but adhere to our original plan of a representative democracy. But we need some restorations and it will be a pretty good idea to vote for Cox and get on the way. The republicans have had control of congress for these past two years and they have made a pretty bad mess of it. To give them the entire government is to further encourage the bureaucratic system, of which we righteously complain.

COTTON WILL RUIN US ALL if we but stick to it. It hasn't done so, it may be contended—but conditions are changed materially. It has ruined quite a number of us and has badly crippled a lot of others. It is going to put a crimp in all of us this year and we are having a hard struggle to get along. We can throw off this serfdom and allegiance to the taskmasters of England and New England if we will. We can do it if we will but do so.

THE DAIRY COW, on the other hand, is a friend of ours. She will pull us through the slough of despond if we will but treat her half way decently. She has two handsome allies, the hen and the hog; and they will all three work unceasingly, demanding nothing save proper food and attention. We need fear no strike upon their part of we will be but half way decent in our treatment. We can use them indifferently even and have some profit. Use them well and have a weekly instead of an annual pay check.

WE HAVE FACILITIES in Paris for marketing most of the things which can be grown in Lamar and adjoining counties. If there be no such facilities then they can be secured; and the Chamber of Commerce is here for the express purpose of serving the community of Lamar and of the other communities which adjoin us.

ANARCHY IS REPORTED to have spread into Fannin county and there are reports that "warnings" have been sent to gins to close down. The officers should handle this proposition without loss of time and should do it vigorously. The anarchists should be exposed to the community at least, that they may be known. No community need be troubled with such pests for any length of time and should not be. A man who would even threaten to destroy property which is being used to serve a community should be dealt with most rigorously.

"CHEER UP MABEL" HAD A PLEASING AUDIENCE

"Cheer Up Mabel" was the attraction at the Grand Thursday evening and despite the rainy and threatening outlook there was a filled house. This is supposed to be a musical comedy and depends in some measure for its success upon the shapeliness of the feminine members of the cast, much being made of the pulchritude of Nyta Brown, otherwise John G. Getz.

It was pleasing to the audience and there was applause for the songs which were well sung for the most part; and there was laughter at the jokes, many of them based upon the uprightness of the comedian, represented as a king. Just why there is supposed to be laughter in witnessing a drunken man made up with cotton wool in his tights is hard to say; but there is. The company is well balanced and the show as a whole was fully up to the advertising.

WOMAN FALLS IN HOLE AND BREAKS AN ARM

Mrs. W. C. Davis, the wife of Justice of the Peace Davis of the Fourth precinct, met with a painful accident a few days ago near her home at Harrellton, between Powderly and Arthur City. While walking along the road she stepped in a hole and fell. Besides receiving bruises she had an arm broken. At first it was thought the arm had only been sprained, but she continued to suffer from it and when she went to a doctor in search of relief he informed her that the arm was broken.

House Cleaning A Pleasure

ONLY A FEW YEARS AGO CLEANING WAS a nightmare in the average home. It necessitated dust and disorder. It required destructive beating. It was a time of dust-caps, of overwork, of weariness. If the home-makers amiability suffered under such a strain, who could criticize?

PERHAPS THERE ARE WOMEN WHO STILL cling to these old-fashioned, toilsome methods. But this seems doubtful. Everyone, men and women alike, surely appreciate the necessity of employing up-to-date methods.

THIS UP-TO-DATE METHOD MEANS A VACUUM CLEANER. It means nothing else. To be modern, you must have one. To be progressive, you must have one and to be clean you must have one.

STYLE HEADQUARTERS

Where Society Brand Clothes are sold

© A. D. & C., 1920

Why we sell Society Brand Clothes

Because you should buy them

When a man puts on Society Brand Clothes he, in a measure of speech, steps entirely out from the crowd of commonplace clothes wearers—he becomes a style leader.

Society Brand Clothes give distinction of appearance through their skill and good judgment in tailoring. It is tailoring without fancy trimming—tailoring without a flaw.

We find that the men who think ahead of the crowd like Society Brand Clothes—for their style value, their wear value and the ease with which they can purchase a correct-fitting suit or overcoat.

Are You a Patriot? Or Are You a Partisan?

The Republican party does not need Texas this year to win.

But—

Texas needs the Republican party if the producers of this state are to be protected against pauper labor.

Note what price is being paid for cotton;

Note what price is being paid for cottonseed!

Note what price is being paid for peanuts!

And remember the Orient is dumping billions of pounds of vegetable oils in this country duty free to depress the prices received by Texas farmers for their products.

A vote for the straight Republican Ticket on November 2nd is a vote to protect Texas producers against Asiatic labor.

CORN AND OATS REACH LOW LEVELS OF SEASON

New Orleans Cotton
NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 21.—English labor news furnished most of the active power for the fluctuations in cotton today and it was unfavorable enough to cause wide declines, although important buying was felt on all the soft spots and it gave the market recuperative power such as has not been in evidence for some time. The weakest period came late in the session but it was followed by a buying wave, so the tone on the close was officially called very steady. Last prices were 47 to 58 off.

Chicago Grain
CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Sharp down turns in the value of wheat took place today largely as a result of a likelihood of that British strike troubles would spread. The market closed unsettled, 4c to 5c lower, with December 1.97 1/2 to 1.98 and March 1.89 1/2 to 1.90. Corn finished 1/2c down to 14c and oats 1/2c down to 13c. Provisions at a setback of 10 to 15c.

Corn and oats were depressed in sympathy with wheat and sold at new low levels for the season.

DEFENDANTS EXECUTE BOND IN COOPER BANK CASE

The federal court adjourned for the term yesterday morning early and Judge W. L. Estes and United States Marshal Harper returned to Texas.

The court was expecting to adjourn Wednesday evening but the judge remained over in the expectation of having a habeas corpus application presented for a reduction of bail in the case of L. E. Stell, against whom and five others indictments were returned for alleged violation of the national banking laws.

The bond of the defendant Stell had been placed at $50,000 on suggestion of the United States attorney, but subsequently by an agreement between the attorneys the sum of $25,000 was agreed up as the amount of the bond and the habeas corpus application was not presented.

The bonds of the other defendants were placed at $10,000 each. The defendants Stell, A. S. Harper and R. B. Hagood appeared before United States Commissioner Jno. S. Stone and executed the bonds, which were approved and they were released. The other three defendants have not been arrested yet.

The defendants are charged in the indictment with misapplication of funds of the Farmers National bank of Cooper.

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head and ear noises or are growing hard of hearing go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parnint (double strength), and add to 1/2 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal —Are the best by reason of many years' test.

JOHN DEERE STALK CUTTERS

A special spring hitch, having both a pull spring and cushion spring, prevents the jerking of the tongue and saves the neck and shoulders of the horses. The knives are double-edged and reversible, giving a double wear and saving delay of having knives sharpened.

The stalk hooks are spring controlled, hence automatic in their action, being far superior to the gravity hooks on other makes. These are but a few of the many advantages possessed by a John Deere, and we can show you many other points of superiority.

PROFITEERING CHARGES AGAINST ARMOUR AND CO.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—The Federal grand jury today, as the result of a secret investigation conducted by an assistant of the attorney general's office returned an indictment against Armour and Company, Chicago packers, and against the officers of the company individually, charging them with profiteering in violation of the Lever Act.

The indictment contains 137 counts, each of which describes a sale of New Zealand lamb at an alleged unlawful and unreasonable rate during April, May and June. The meat, it is charged, cost Armour and Company $18.46 per 100 pounds; that the lowest it was sold for was $23, and the highest $35. All the sales were made to customers in Manhattan and Bronx.

The investigation on which the indictment was based covered eight weeks, during which period it was found, according to the indictment, that the average selling prices of the entire shipment of New Zealand lamb disposed of by Armour and Company was $25.17 per 100 pounds and the average net profit to the company was $6.51.

The indictment was reported to Federal Judge Augustus N. Hand.

Ford

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The Ford Sedan with electric starting and lighting system, demountable rims with 3 1/2-inch tires and tire carrier, for every day in the year has no equal as a family car. Just as popular on the farm as it is in the city. In fact, it fits the family demands in every vocation of life. Large, roomy seats, finely upholstered. Plate glass windows make it an open car in pleasant weather, while in rainy and inclement weather it becomes a closed car, dust-proof and rain-proof. It is ideal for social functions, the theatre, or parties; carrying the children to school, or for touring. It is not only comfortable, but really cozy, and above all, economical in operation and maintenance, and yet with all it has the Ford merits of strength and durability. We solicit your order for one. Come in and see it.
